Assembly Coffee Roasters (ACR) is a true micro-roastery, roasting specialty coffees for wholesale clients and for their own webstore in small batches. Working in micro-batches gives ACR the flexibility to work with clients on creating custom blends suited to enhance the experience of their customers. Assembly Coffee Roasters was founded by Julia and Thomas Doyle in the hope of creating a lasting experience for residents and visitors here in enchanting Berkshire County. Formerly, Julia was a partner at DCR in New York City, a commercial contracting company that designed and built many of New York City’s finest dining establishments. Thomas was formerly the head roaster and operations manager at the industry-leading Blue Bottle Coffee, where he was responsible for sourcing, roasting, and distributing coffee; quality control; and development of new blends both in San Francisco and Brooklyn, N.Y. The couple relocated to The Berkshires in 2011.
