Berkshire Museum hosts Young Professional Play Night
Adults-only evening of fun science and inspired play

[Pittsfield, Mass.] – Berkshire Museum will host Young Professional Play Night, a special play date for the young-at-heart, on Thursday, July 14, at 5:30 p.m. Join us for an adults-only evening of scientific experiments and inspired, creative play while the kids are away. Build a fort with the big blue blocks of Imagination Playground™, get messy with our Kitchen Ka-Boom! experiments and enjoy light refreshments and a cash bar. All tickets are $10, available at the door.

In addition to the Imagination Playground™ and science experiments, participants will be able to try the innovation and invention activities in Spark!Lab. Utilize your engineering skills with the giant egg drop and help construct a mini-catapult. Learn the science behind capsaicin while testing an assortment of “cures” for spicy foods and see the amazing Elephant’s Toothpaste demonstration.

Grown-ups ages 18-118 will enjoy this evening at the Museum with a playful twist!
